

A measured approach to HSEQ

These uncertain times are tough. COVID-19, turbulent markets, a struggling economy and accelerated technological change not to mention sustainability targets and energy transition. But what is certain is the need to reduce compliance challenges and operational costs without compromising on HSEQ and increasing risk.

We have the answer.

An extension to your team

The Quensh HSEQ approach provides access to the equivalent of a fully staffed HSEQ department, without incurring the equivalent overhead.

Working within your budget Quensh provide flexible, on-demand access to a wide range of HSEQ specialisms through their experienced team. Whether this be delivery of a fully outsourced service or to bolster constrained internal resources, Quensh is here to ensure legislative compliance is maintained, client requirements are met and risks continue to be mitigated.

It's as simple as that.

Significant cost savings of up to 30% through reduced operational expenditure and inclusive training costs.

Continuous cover

Access to an experienced HSEQ team, our extensive network, best practices and shared learnings whilst only paying for the expertise as you need it.

Independent verification

Solutions delivered by experts with a wider HSEQ perspective and understanding on industry expectations providing objective support ensuring compliance.

Having our finger firmly on the HSEQ pulse, means we make it simple allowing you to focus on your business.

We concentrate on your HSEQ, You concentrate on your business.
